Wassessing.

To get your glazing done go to Cook. The sidewalk grading on Orange street cost the township $131.33.

John B. Palm, daughter of Mr. James Palm of Grove street, died on Monday.

Alexander Ferguson was stricken with paralysis last Saturday.

A McCoy of Wassessing, and A. Rea of Hoboken, are chums.

A new clock and a new hat rack are the latest additions to Wm. Morton's shop.

Uncle Toby Cooper advises the boys when they pitch a heavy quilt, to pitch it flat.

Hugo Cooper defeated John Worthington in a quilt match on Saturday. Score 31 to 26.

Messrs. W. & B. Brown have disposed of several organs of the Peloubet make recently.

H. L. Van Gieson can furnish the pelubet of every aspirant for office in Essex County, this fall.

Major McCallum left here last Wednesday night to visit his brother in Chicago. He expects to be absent 2 weeks.

Messrs. James and John Wilde exhibited a few of their handsome game fowls at Waverly this week.

Alpine Social Club had a meeting on Tuesday evening. This association seems to be all going away.

The man who tried to make a pawnbroker out of Mr. Wm. Cook, has returned and redeemed his pledges.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, of New York, relatives of Mr. James Ellor, were present at his wife's funeral on last Saturday.

Mr. John Hyde recently purchased a young mastiff. It gives promise of becoming a valuable animal. It has a recorded pedigree.

Wm. Hayes, who deserted his wife and family, has been heard from. He is in England and not in Cork, Ireland, as erroneously stated in a Newark paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wood, from Yonkers, spent last Sunday in Wassessing. They came here to attend the funeral of their relative, Mrs. Ann Ellor.

Wm. Morton returned from Philadelphia last Monday, after an absence of several days, during which he witnessed the centennial parades and visited his friends. His bearded friends were glad to have him return.

A resident of this vicinity who has considerable influence with the officials of the railroad, talks about getting the company to contract with the gas company to burn the two gas lamps near the depot, all night.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Ellor, wife of James Ellor was very largely attended. Eighteen coaches were in line filled principally with relatives of the deceased.

The Wassessing M. E. church was crowded with friends desirous of taking a last look at the remains. Several beautiful floral tributes were placed on the casket. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Egbert.

Franklin District.

The recently imported Italians, at work on the sewer spend their evenings rushing the "growler."

Mr. J. E. Baber is the architect who drew the plans for Mr. Nevin's $18,000 house on Montrose avenue.

Chancellor McGill has decided that the N. Y. & G. L. Railroad company must let the Cross-town Street Railway cross their tracks on Washington street.

A blast at the Prospect street sewer trench one day last week damaged the residence and property of Mr. Cadmus, on that street.

The Orange Cross Town line must pay the N. Y. & G. L. R. R. Company fifty dollars a year for the privilege of crossing its tracks on Washington street.

Much indignation was felt among the citizens in the neighborhood of Dodd and Prospect streets over the blocking up of both those highways by the parties digging the sewer trenches.

Dr. Richardson Gray, of East Orange, is a candidate for coroner on the Prohibition ticket. Dr. Gray is well known in this neighborhood, having an extensive practice in both here and Wassessing.

On Saturday the employees in the New York office of Messrs. Seabury & Johnson will play a game of baseball with the firm employees at the factory. The game will be played on the Wassessing grounds.

The petition received at the last meeting of Freeholders from parties interested in the Brighton avenue bridge, was not in opposition to the bridge, but simply requesting the Freeholders to delay action until some arrangement could be made about changing the course of the stream, so as to enable the bridge to be built at a great deal less expense to the county.

Have you seen the new post office building? It is quite imposing, but there is another question agitating the minds of tenants in the vicinity. Will landlords raise the rent later on? It is presumed that they will. And it is right here that Henry George would enter protest. He would argue this way: By what right does the property holder here demand something for nothing? What has he done to enhance the value of the land or houses thereon, which surround Uncle Sam's big building, Baltimore Free Press.

Have you seen the Disposal Works? The new buildings are quite imposing, nevertheless there is a question agitating the minds of the property holders in the vicinity. Will these works depreciate the value of the property in the immediate neighborhood? Henry George is needed to adjust matters. The property owners argue this way: What right has the township to demand something for nothing, what have they done to decrease the value of their property or the houses thereon?

Wassessing was well represented at Justice Hall's court on Thursday night. The case of Mrs. Bolton against Mrs. Hoater came up for second hearing. Owing to the confusion prevalent at the first hearing the Squire had adjourned the case until the parties were able to give a better understanding of the matter. On Thursday night Mrs. Bolton's side was represented by an able lawyer. Many amusing incidents characterized the proceedings. Witnesses for defendant got mixed up with those of plaintiff, and vice versa. The defendant, who plead her own case, showed an irrepressible determination to utilize plaintiff's lawyer. Again and again did that gentleman endeavor to demonstrate to her that he was employed and paid by the other side. Friends of both parties could hardly suppress their inclination to interfere, and were only deterred from doing so by stern looks from Officer Foster, who acted as master of ceremonies. Plaintiff's lawyer was somewhat nonplussed when a witness replied to his interrogations in pure German. It was soon apparent that the witness could not speak English. The economical administration of Bloomfield justice not allowing the court the luxury of an interpreter the witness was necessarily excused. Objections were raised by defendant to plaintiff's counsel's summary of the evidence, alleging that it savored of partiality. Judge Hall took the case in hand and in a few minutes decided that defendant should pay costs and be put under bonds to keep the peace.

Jersey Troops at Gettysburg.

Mr. Samuel Toombs, of the New Brunswick Freeman, has been preparing and is about to publish a book upon the part taken by New Jersey troops in the Gettysburg campaign of June and July, 1863. The work will be ready in December and will contain upwards of 300 pages, with handsome illustrations, and specially drawn maps of the battle-fields. It will be sold by subscription only at $2.50 per copy. Orders should be sent at once to Mr. Toombs at New Brunswick, or left with the publisher of the THE CITIZEN.

Mr. Toombs was a member of the Thirtieth Regiment, and has had access to valuable records at Trenton and elsewhere. The Gettysburg campaign was initiated by New Jersey troops (the 26th Regiment) at Franklin's Crossing on the Rappahannock, June 5th, and the Thirtieth Regiment was among the first that entered Pennsylvania in pursuit of Lee. Fifteen commands were present on the field of Gettysburg, and to give an accurate and complete report of all their movements as set forth in official reports, and related by eye-witnesses, is the object of this book.

Political Notes.

The election of a United States Senator is always an important issue in politics. The fact that the new State Senators to be elected this fall will have a vote in determining who shall represent the State in the United States Senate attached to an unusual importance to this off-year election and has a tendency to enliven it. The Counties from which the eight new Senators will be elected are Essex, Monmouth, Union, Warren, Camden, Gloucester, Salem, and Somerset. It seems to be granted that the Republicans of Essex will present the name of Senator Frederick S. Fish for re-election.

D. H. Patten, a prominent nurseryman in Essex, N. Y., has written an inquiry where he can get a few good reliable men to solicit orders. He wishes men to canvass and take orders for trees, shrubs and vines for fall delivery and promises steady employment, 60 good salesmen. If any of our readers desire a good position we would advise them to write to Mr. Patten for full particulars. Address, D. H. Patten, Nurseryman, Geneva, New York.
